

2022 Alumni Award Winner – Patrick Sodl.

Starting as a six-year-old, Patrick Sodl played in the BCS for six years and competed in six Super Bowls. His teams won numerous championships during that span. Patrick used his BCS experience and played Pop Warner tackle football in El Segundo for several seasons where he played middle linebacker and running back. Patrick then enrolled at Loyola High School of Los Angeles where he became a standout middle linebacker for the Cubs. He was named first team All-Angelus League his Junior and Senior seasons where he led the league averaging 15 tackles a game. Patrick was named Captain his senior season and Defensive MVP of the team. Patrick has committed to play football in the Ivy League at Columbia University in New York City.

